04.13.2k18...2nd Annual Leilehua High School Job Fair gave the Hawaiian Civic Club of Wahiawā an opportunity to network with our community in preserving our land, our foods, our traditions and our people. Our neighbors in the Volunteer aisle were Alea Bridge; 'Ōlelo; Surf the Nation; Blue Zone; Honolulu Community College; Alu Like; Honolulu Police Department and more.

We were able to find a place where we could assist each other in bringing our Volunteer programs together to benefit our Youth. Mahalo neighbors as we prepare the way for our nā 'ōpio who are our Hawaiian National Treasures.

Following Kūkaniloko Protocol, everyone stopped for a photo recording this very special visit. HCCW's Kahu Peter Lonoae`a, Dr. Alja Zorz, Hope Pelekikena Noelani DeVincent, Martha Noyes, M.A. with Stella, Michelle's Mom who lives on O'ahu, Dr. David Begay, Dr. Michelle Viotti, HCCW's Kupuna Pila Short, Dr. Nancy Maryboy, and Kahu Dr. Francine Park-Palama.

04.19.2k18...The Hawaiian Civic Club of Wahiawā hosted some very special guests today. We were honored to welcome this special group of scholars to a Piko Listening Journey with kia'i Tom Lenchanko. We also simultaneously hosted 50 Mililani Mauka Middle School 7th graders, their teachers and chaperones. This was the perfect timing for Dr. Michelle Viotti who is the Manager for NASA's Mars Public Engagement Program. She is looking for Middle Schools in Hawai'i to partner with NASA for their "Imagine Mars" program. She has been with NASA for more than 20 years. Her mom, who lives on O'ahu, joined her for today's Huaka'i to Kūkaniloko. She was sure to obtain contact information from Mililani Mauka Middle school teacher, Teresa Duran. NASA - National Aeronautics and Space Administration - was established by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958.

Mahalo nui loa for your visit with us at Kūkaniloko...Aloha nō

Dr. Nancy Maryboy, Indigenous Education Institute, IEI. Nancy is the Founding President and Executive Director of IEI. She is also an Affiliate Professor at the University of Washington, School of Environmental Studies and Forestry. Mahalo.

Dr. David Begay, Indigenous Education Institute, IEI. David is the Vice President and Founder of the Indigenous Education Institute (IEI) He is also an Associate Research Professor at the University of New Mexico, College of Pharmacy, Environmental Science, and Health Program. Mahalo.

Dr. Alja Zorz is with the Institute for the Protection of Cultural Heritage of Slovenia. She is a Doctor of Science in archaeology. Her prehistorian interests are in burials, caves, rituals, mythology, holistic research, landscape archaeology, medieval rituals, symbolism, as well as in Iberian and Hawaiian archaeology. Mahalo.

Martha Noyes, M.A. Cultural Astronomy is lālā ho'okama Hawaiian Civic Club of Wahiawā. "The best ancient observatory on O'ahu is located at Kūkaniloko Birthing Stones State Monument outside of Wahiawā." Martha Noyes has been studying the astronomical functions of this site for more than 12 years. Archaeoastronomy has become famous in its modern use of celestial navigation for voyaging canoes. We learned this as we witnessed the voyage of the Hōkūle'a for her three year journey around the world using only the knowledge of the heavens as handed down by our ancients. Kūkaniloko was one of these places where celestial navigation was taught to our Ali'i born and raised here in the central plateau of O'ahu, Pu'uhonua Kūkaniloko. Mahalo.

Kahu Dr. Francine Park-Palama is an influential and leading native Hawaiian business woman. She is a technical design expert in design, planning and restoration services. Her particular interest is in church buildings. Dr. Palama's pursuit of higher education began later in her lifetime earning her PhD. in Architecture; and Certification in Historic Preservation as one of the few native Hawaiians to do so. She has received from the Council for Native Hawaiian Advancement (CNHA) the Native - Hawaiian New Generation Leadership Award and received numerous scholarships in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematic (STEM). Mahalo.

Kia’i Tom Lenchanko shares the mo’olelo of the diamond stone

4.19.2k18... Mililani Mauka Middle Kūkaniloko huaka’i...

Teacher Teresa Duran and STEM teacher, Daren Anzai, brought their haumāna to our outdoor classroom. Students were captivated with the detailed mo’olelo for each pōhaku through the Piko Listening Journey with kia’i Tom. They hoped to gather information for their essays and workbook questions and answers. Mahalo iā nā ’ōpio...eō

Students shared water with our nā pōhaku and lau kī.

Haumāna brought their workbooks to answer questions regarding the Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics – STEM. They gathered and wrote while answers were fresh on their minds.

We are grateful for the time spent with our nā ’ōpio who live and are educated within the 36,000 acres of Pu’uhonua Kūkaniloko, kalana lihu’e, wahiawā, halemano. You are our Hawaiian National Treasures. We are honored to have shared our mo’olelo.

...and there's a lot more to go...

We have many visitors from all over the world. The Walton sisters (left) and their spouses were on holiday from Ontario, Canada. The Asuncion family (right) are from Waipahu. Many come for different reasons. Military dependents who grew up in Hawai'i return and bring their families to see the islands they had grown up loving as home. Mahalo to those who come to remember Aloha here at Kūkaniloko...eō FLASHBACK ! April 2016...

Kūkaniloko Wai'anae Uka...koa mana describes the direct descendants of the Wai'anae Moku

koa = warrior, brave, koa tree
mana = spiritual power
koa mana = warrior, spiritual bravery, power of the koa tree
 This is the male energy - kane

ko'a = coral, sanctuary
mana = spiritual power
ko'a mana = powerful sanctuary, powerful coral
 This is the female energy - wahine

The koa tree was the sanctuary for birds and the ko'a the sanctuary for fish. Ko'a or coral was the first living creature born from the universe in the Kumulipo. Branched ko'a was offered at heiau as a gift of the akua; and Kaneko'a was the ahu to increase the o'opu fish near lo'i and streams. *Mahalo for asking ... ANALEMMA – from the Greek term meaning the projection of a sphere on a plane, showing the latitude and meridian of a place. A figure-eight shaped graduated scale which shows the declination of the sun and the equation of time for each day of the year. This figure "8" which some may recognize as the "Infinity" symbol, is pictured on your left near the equator. If you look closely, the center of the figure crosses at the Hawaii Islands. To create the Analemma, you will need to be in a place where the sun will shine on the ground at noon daily through all of the seasons of the year – for example, at Kūkaniloko. You would stake a rod about 3 feet tall into the ground being sure it is in a place where it will not be disturbed for the entire year. If this rod were on a sundial, it would be called a gnomon. On the first day of each month, at the same time on each of those days, you would place a small stone where the rod makes a shadow from the tip of the rod. Repeat this process each month at the same time on the same day. At the end of the 12 months, you will see that the 12 stones will create the figure "8" pattern on the ground. This will be the Analemma for that year...
