3.1.2k14...Prince Kūhiō Ho'olaulea...The Hawaiian Civic Club of Wahiawā joined others in honoring Prince Jonah Kalaniana'ole Kūhiō, founder of the Association of Hawaiian Civic Clubs, here at Kaka'ako Park. We shared a large tent with other Civic Clubs to educate interested parties of our mission and accomplishments. There were ono food booths, crafts, demonstrations of cultural arts, educational displays and awesome entertainment all day long... eō

3.2.2k14...kūkākūkā...Planning for the maintenance and care of the five hundred acres surrounding Kūkaniloko Birthstones State Monument in collaboration with Hawaiian Legacy Hardwoods has begun. An onsite meeting was a good place to begin to feel the 'āina and to sort through thoughts and ideas together. Restoration and reforestation of the Native Ecosystem of kalana Kūkaniloko begins with a Legacy Trees Program. Koa trees are sponsored one tree at a time. The "Legacy Talking Forest" is next generation technology that will allow the tree sponsor to leave a recorded message, song or even a video connected to their Legacy Tree. Through the use of a cellular telephone app, anyone can walk through the forest and the trees will speak to you. This is only one phase of the program. Kulanui O Kūkaniloko awaits...Ho'omaika'i

3.7.2k14...Ka'ala Elementary School Visit...A rescheduled field trip was set for Ka'ala Elementary School fourth graders on March 7th to both O'ahunui and Kūkaniloko Birthstones State Monument with 'anakala Tom Lenchanko. About 80 haumana from Ka'ala Elementary School of Wahiawā along with 8-10 teachers and chaperones attended. Weather was overcast, but the rains stayed away long enough for us to finish. 'Anakala Tom did his maika'i presentation at both sites. I shared a small demonstration with the haumana to have them connect back to the 'āina. I asked them to remove their socks and shoes and stand barefooted upon the grounds while closing their eyes. I explained that this would connect and center each of them to the piko, Kūkaniloko. My heart was extremely happy to see all these haumana connected back to the piko!!!

Mahalo e 'anakala Tom!!!

3.9.2k14...Dr. Reverend Francine Palama is the owner of Maunakai & Associates, Cultural Planner, Architectural and Restoration Services. She is currently working on a three part proposal for the Welcome Center at Kulanui O Kukaniloko. 1) Conceptual Design - continuation of groundwork and ideas begun the 1990's for the Welcome Center; 2) Schematic Design - drawings for specific needs and requests; and 3) Design Development and Construction Documents. We are grateful for her assist in manifesting this long awaited vision of the return of the Kulanui to kalana Kūkaniloko for our future generations. The Welcome Center is only the beginning, an important first step. It is our hope to provide a place for mea ola kanaka mauli practitioners to come to teach and certify their haumana to perpetuate Aloha, the greatest truth of all. Mahalo iā Dr. Francine Palama.

Flashback! ka pa'i ana helu ke ono 'Okakopa 2k9... Hawaiian Civic Club of Wahiawā... 'Ano'ai

Friday, November 9, 1962 Hawaiian Civic Club of Wahiawā meeting. Guest speaker: Kupuna Pilahi Paki
Question: Is the true Hawaiian greeting 'ano'ai? Pilahi Paki: That was the true Hawaiian greeting: "not one greater than another." ALOHA is something that is there. We can feel it but cannot touch it. ALOHA is a way of life because it takes your heart. The five ways to bring ALOHA out are: your eyes, your spoken words, your hands, your hearing and your breath. Everyone says ALOHA. Every malahini says ALOHA. How many of us remember how to say ALOHA from the heart? Today, ALOHA is taken for granted.

- A 'akahi.....to feel and to think with kindnesses
- L lokahi.....to stand firmly in unity and in harmony
- O 'olu'olu.....to balance your thinking as well as your feelings
- H ha'aha'a....to be humble; humility expressed with modesty
- A ahonui.....to persevere; learn to apply patience; to be patient you learn to stand alone.

3.12.2k14...CONGRATULATIONS to our Hawaiian Civic Club of Wahiawā lālā ōiwi, kahu a me alaka'i mele, Peter W.K. Lonoae`a Wahiawa resident Peter William Kawaimaka Lonoaea, a longtime performer at Polynesian Cultural Center and a Church College of Hawaii graduate, received the 2014 Kau I Ka Wekiu Award for his outstanding contributions to Hawaiian culture, art, music and dance. The award was presented Jan. 18 during the annual Moanikeala Hula Festival, named after Lonoaea's mentor Aunty Sally Moanikeala Wood Naluai. He also has shared his culture with children at Lanikai Elementary and many other Hawaii schools. Here Lonoaea performs a special dance for the festival crowds.

3.24.2k14...Firefighters battle brush fire in Wahiawā by Web Staff-Updated & Published: Monday, March 24, 2014

Honolulu firefighters are battling a brush fire in Wahiawā in the mountains above Halemano. Officials say the fire first sparked on state property last week, two-and-a-half miles past the end of the road at Halemano Military Reservation. Officials say the fire, which is currently an acre in size, is still smoldering. City and federal firefighters and the Division of Forestry and Wildlife will work until dusk to put it out.

3.26.2k14...Wahiawā fire 90% contained along ridge by Web Staff-Updated & Published: Wednesday, March 26, 2014

The flare-up along Kaukonahua ridge on March 25, 2014 (Photo: DLNR) Crews with the state Division of Forestry and Wildlife are mopping up a 30-acre brushfire on Kaukonahua ridge in Wahiawā. The Department of Land and Natural Resources says morning rain helped crews get the fire to 90-percent containment. State personnel remain on scene, monitoring the perimeter and assessing damage along the steep terrain. The fire first sparked on state property last week, two-and-a-half miles past the end of the road at Halemano Military Reservation. Crews had it fully contained at one acre until strong winds caused a flare-up Monday. Contract helicopters performing water drops and federal firefighters were brought in to assist on Tuesday. Officials say the fire is burning in deep leaf litter from eucalyptus and uluhe, a type of fern, which can allow it to smolder for days.
